Modus Operandi

First of all, I cannot begin to tell you how privileged I feel that you are inviting me to the possibility of preserving your day. To say I am humbled is an understatement, and although this is the initial step into making a very important decision, I thank you for allowing me to introduce not only myself, but my passion and my true heart in photography. I strive to create fine art pieces your future generations whom will treasure your photographs as keepsakes and more importantly, as the very first heirlooms of your new families.

How did you get this party started?

I would first have to say, my mother, not only a gifted photographer in her native Cuba, but a firechild filled with artform, passion and a zest and love of people! I remember walking down the street with her as a child, and her saying hello to everyone! She had a kind and generous nature and her love of people places and things were her source of inspiration. So, in a nutshell and as they say, the apple doesn't fall far from the tree, I inherited her passion, her talent in photography as well as music. Gifts I will forever cherish and keep alive within my own life, my art and the people whose lives I may touch.

I find people fascinating! The way they look, how they live and most importantly how they love. It is something that fascinates me because everyone is so unique. I often say that my photographs are not as amazing as the people in them, and I give a lot of credit to my clients, afterall the relationships I create and maintain with my them is a MUST! I cannot do this alone, nor do I claim that my work is mine alone.

You will chose me yes, because you love my work, but in an essence you must love what I will do for you, on your wedding day, we've got to love each other especially since I will be with you every step of the way on one of the most important days of their lives. By establishing a meaningful relationship with you during your wedding planning it helps us to build trust and a relaxed family-like environment which aid greatly in the creation and the capturing of some spectacular moments.

I know I will find you fascinating, and I would be honored as your photographer, your friend and yes a guest at the wedding!

Investment

Your wedding photography is not about price, it should be considered an investment and viewed as a manner to preserve your memories. During wedding planning you can be overwhelmed by the myriad of decisions and we wish to make the process a simple one. We offer two signature collections, one which is an ala carte approach allowing you to decide later on your products and albums, however, if you are ready for the optimal experience, our prime collection will include your heirloom storybook album as well as a front seat to the full experience at Barbara Jacqueline Studios.
